

Pacific Passages at Vancouver International Airport

Vancouver, BC

Welcome to the Pacific Northwest

Vancouver International (YVR) wanted to instill a sense of regional identity and character in its airport while welcoming international passengers to the unique region.

APA collaborated with architectural partners to take arriving passengers through BC's tranquil—yet stunning—forests and waterways. They are immersed in the flora, fauna and history of the Pacific Northwest as interpreted by contemporary Indigenous artists. For those who aren't in a hurry, there's a viewing deck to get a better appreciation of Canada's Pacific coast.
