

Fort Anne National Historic Site

Annapolis Royal, NS

A Fresh Way to Envision the Struggle for Empire

When Fort Anne National Historic Site celebrated its centennial anniversary, Parks Canada Agency (PCA) used the opportunity to re-invest in the future of Fort Anne. PCA wanted visitors to experience the Site's stories and discover the role it played in shaping the nation.

APA worked closely with PCA and community stakeholders to create an immersive experience in the historic Officers' Quarters and surrounding landscape. Visitors live the turbulent history through a variety of digital media, innovative artifact displays and hands-on interactive exhibits. Visitors are immersed in exhibits that complement the historic structures and bring the Fort's colorful history to life—its battles, the everyday lives of its inhabitants and its complicated global connections.
