A Country Connected

To travel across Canada by vehicle or train, you must pass along the rocky North Shore of Lake Superior. There, the Schreiber Discovery Centre celebrates the people who worked to connect the country by rail and road.

APA worked with the Township of Schreiber to tell the region's story, from its continuous Indigenous presence to today's businesses run by Italian immigrants. Visitors take in personal stories, quotes, and enlarged postcards to discover a welcoming community. They explore this railway community's artifacts—from wrenches and lanterns to a retired locomotive and a velocipede—to get a sense of the people's grit and commitment to connecting Canada.
