

Turtle Bay Exploration Park

Redding, CA

Rediscover Redding's Resources

Turtle Bay Museum is the centerpiece of a 300-acre exploration park that engages visitors of all ages in fun, interactive learning. Designed by APA over 20 years ago, core galleries in the Museum are now in need of a refresh to meet the needs and expectations of contemporary visitors and staff.

The Museum invited APA back to envision new visitor experiences and updated stories for its River Lab, History Gallery, and Resource Gallery. Whether unearthing prehistoric fossils, zooming into maps of changing neighborhoods, or scanning local foods in a grocery store, visitors will learn about the region's natural and cultural history by making, building, and playing. Visitors will leave the Museum with a new appreciation for the diversity and innovation all around them in Shasta County.
